PROGRAM REVIEW & REVISION

Led the program revision transitioning the MSEd in Educational Technology into the MSEd in Learning Design & Technology (LDT), 2023–2024. As program coordinator, led the curriculum revision, capstone changes, and renaming; all proposed changes were adopted and implemented.

Co-led a major 2026 program revision merging the MSEds in Literacy, Learning Design & Technology (LDT), and Curriculum & Instruction (C&I) into the MSEd in Curriculum & Instruction Design (CID). As program coordinator, led the curriculum revision, capstone changes, and renaming; all proposed changes were adopted and implemented. Across this effort, revised, closed, and combined a total of nine programs and certificates.

Oversaw 48 course changes for the 2026 revision — entering, following up on, and presenting each change, and shepherding it through the full course-change, committee, and paperwork processes. All changes approved.

Contributed the program review and evaluation report for WOU's NWCCU mid-cycle evaluation, and met with the visiting accreditors during their site visit, Spring 2026.

RESEARCH & SCHOLARLY INTERESTS

COURSES DEVELOPED OR REVISED AT WESTERN OREGON UNIVERSITY

These courses demonstrate the breadth and depth of technologies, methodologies, pedagogies/andragogies, and content covered in my teaching. They emphasize communication theories as well as user experience, interaction design, usability, and accessibility frameworks.

Summary, 2012–2026: 21 new courses developed and 16 revisions of 10 distinct courses (37 development/revision events); of these, 13 new courses and 14 revisions occurred in 2021–2026.

- CSE 654: Graduate Professional Practice (1 credit; developed 2025–2026, first offered Fall 2026) — three-course series supporting graduate research, writing, and conference presentations.
- ED 640: Professional Writing in Education (4 credits; developed 2025–2026, first offered Spring 2027) — fosters skills for translating scholarly research and findings into practitioner- and public-facing media and writing.
- CSE 640: Social Media & Identity (Summer 2025).
- FYS 107: Visuals for Everyone — Inclusive Media Design (Spring 2025, 4 credits) — new course created.
- WR 401: Writing Across Media (Completely revised, Spring 2025; 4 credits).
- HNR 301: Queen’s Gambit — Chess in Mass Media & Culture (Winter 2025, 4 credits) — new course created.
- WR 301: Integrating Writing & Design (Winter 2025, 4 credits).
- FYS 107: Taylor-Made Rhetoric — A Multimedia Journey through Swift’s Work (Fall 2024, 4 credits) — new course created.
- HNR 301: Digital Inclusivity — A Deep Dive into Accessible Media Creation (Fall 2024, 3 credits) — new course created.
- CSE 486: Emerging Technologies in Teaching and Learning (Winter 2024) — entirely new course that I created and proposed.
- CSE 408: Workshop — Presenting Emerging Tools & AI (Winter 2024, 1 credit) — one-credit workshop designed to pair with CSE 486 so enrolled students reach four total credits.
- CSE 469: Hey U Up? (4 credits; developed Winter 2022; taught again Spring 2024) — analyzes intersections of communication, technology, and relationships through critical and usability lenses.

- CSE 486, CSE 604, CSE 606, CSE 619, and CSE 680 (Revised 2026) — revised from 3 to 4 credits.
- CSE 686: AI, Emerging Technologies, Teaching, Training, and Learning (Revised 2023) — increased emphasis on AI's impact on teaching, training, and learning.
- CSE 604: Portfolio (Revised 2023) — thoroughly redesigned in response to student questions and concerns, moving away from issuing Incomplete/Re-register (I/R) grades, and made more practical and relevant for degree completers.
